In the 2nd week of the new semester we dealt with Risk Management. Recognizing and tackling risks is always a crucial part in software engineering and should not be seen as a single step you take at a certain time in your project.

Because of this we collected all risks and estimated their probability of occurrence as well as their potential impact on the project. We also prioritized them according to the factor of these values. For each risk we appointed a responsible team member and determined a strategy to mitigate their danger for the project. The result of this measure can be seen in this google spreadsheet < https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1HTw6ORS44A5u7S0Fh7qO_54jF7 zeVec0sAP7pkvPheo/edit#gid=0> .

Beside this, we worked on one more use case so that it is now possible to add and delete gift ideas to existing events, which is a key feature in our app. From the user's perspective this feature looks like this:
